

October Cub Camp

The Dinosaur Camp at Kettleless started on Friday night with some fun games to create a relaxed atmosphere for the Cubs. These included team games and then finally an obstacle course to wear them out for a good night's sleep. - We wish! I don't believe this is possible at a Cub Camp.

Surprisingly the Cubs were not too keen on a morning run before breakfast, but it certainly gave them a good appetite. An eventful morning of making fridge magnets, clay moulds and dinosaur biscuits, keeping in with the weekend's theme. These were enjoyed by all before a trip to Whitby.

Here we visited the lifeboat museum, the natural history museum which contained dinosaur fossils, and of course, the shops. Not forgetting the traditional Fish and Chips from Whitby chippy, with a few sausage exceptions.

Back at Kettleless we ended the day with some team games and finally a quiz to test their general knowledge. Sunday arrived and breakfast followed our morning run. Next we did stone painting and made terrodactyl kites which actually worked. This was followed by the construction of mobiles, .. yes you've guessed it, dinosaurs.

After a tiring but thoroughly enjoyable dinosaur weekend, the time came to pack up, clean up and set off back home.

All money raised from the Raffle and the Christmas Social will go into the group funds for purchase of new equipment, such as a new bus, to allow use to continue to run a full programme of activities.

Parents take note...

When "Permission to Camp" forms etc. are issued, they have a return by date printed on them. Please ensure that in future they are return on or before the dates stated. This is important because we need to know exact numbers of people attending events so that we can book accommodation, buy food and arrange transport etc.

If forms are not returned by or on the dates specified we may not be able to run the events.
